

Traveln' Elks

Submitted by Mo Hirning, Public Relations Travelin' Elks:

November found the Trav'lin' Elks going north to Corning, CA where we had fun at Heritage RV Park. New members Bob Yarrigly and Bonnie Turri joined us for their first camp out. And Guest members Garret and Linda Gravelle were also along.

In Corning we toured a repurposed olive oil manufacturing plant and got some delicious olive oil. We had great fun playing the "What the Hell Is It" game that Rich Norlie concocted. We had to identify 15 items from days gone by, such as a metal skate key, a watering bubbler, and such. We also decorated Fall cookies and gave a dozen of them to the park office to give away. One evening, Ed and Howard played their guitars for a fun sing-a-long. There were some wonderful raffle prizes including a quilt made by Imogene. Our thanks to Wagon Masters Ed Kinsey, Imogene Norlie and Rich Norlie for a wonderful time! Check out our photos!

After our October camp out we received a charming note from the Angels Camp manager about our group. It was so nice, we wanted to share it with other Elks. "The Elks Club (Trav'lin' Elks) is more than just a group of people. They're a family that welcomed me with open arms leaving an indelible mark on my heart and a strong desire to become a part of their community.

Meet the Carmichael Trav'lin' Elks #2103. This is the third Elks Club group I have had the honor of meeting and spending time with during their stay at Angels Camp RV Resort. Each time, I felt accepted and loved from the get-go.

Every day with this group was a whirlwind of activities, filled with joy and laughter; meet-and-greets, happy hour, crafts, games and group dinners. But more than the fun, it was the sense of belonging that stood out. Every person I spoke to echoed the same sentiment; the people there were with their family. And that's the magic of the Elks Lodge-- everyone is family.

Trav'lin' unite Elk members who also share a passion for RVing, creating a vibrant community of mobile enthusiasts' if interested, contact your neighborhood Elks Lodge and get more information.

Thank you for the yummy goodies y'all shared with the staff. These beautiful people made me feel in a way I will never forget, loved.

Thank you Carmichael Trav'lin Elks, we hope to see y'all again next year!"

There is no December meeting, but our Holiday Party will be December 7th at the Lakeview Center. Call Shirley March (530-545-9628) for last minute tickets.
